I saw this on FB and thought it's too lovely not to share. To everyone who has lost someone special, this is for you.

Today, I thought of you,
And I felt comforted
By your presence.

I could almost see
The light of your smile
Soothing my soul.

I could almost hear
The sound of your voice
Steady and full.

I could almost feel
Your hand reaching for mine
And holding tightly.

I could almost smell

The scent of pines,
Where we sat surrounded by the trees.

I could almost taste
The coffee as we
Talked so freely.

I could sense
Your love so fully
Through this moment So vividly.

And I know you're with me.
I know somehow, you're with me.
And I'll find you in my heart,
In our memories.
